Norris Design Expands with New Office Opening in Phoenix, Arizona
Leading Planning and Landscape Architecture Firm Holds Open House at Phoenix Office and Welcomes New Staff

PHOENIX, AZ, October 9, 2007 — Norris Design, a leading planning and landscape architecture firm, today announced the opening of a new office in Phoenix, Arizona. The Phoenix office expands Norris Design's ability to offer the best value and results to a fast growing base of clients and prospects in the region.

With offices in Denver, CO, Chicago, IL, Frisco, CO, and Tucson, AZ, this newest location expands Norris Design's effort to provide expertise and resources to ensure each client receives innovative design solutions and service beyond expectations. The Phoenix office offers entitlement, planning, design and landscape architectural services for residential communities, mixed use and commercial projects, including infill, redevelopment and new development around the Valley.

The office is headed by Senior Associate, Kathryn Lansink, AICP, LEED® AP who relocated from the company's Denver office and has ten years of diverse experience in land planning, design and public policy.

Tiffany Halperin, ASLA, LEED® AP joined Norris Design's Phoenix office in May 2007 as an Associate to lead the landscape architecture effort. A graduate of Arizona State University, she has over ten years of diverse experience in landscape architecture and urban design.

The company's first major project in the Phoenix market is the Erickson Retirement Communities campus in Surprise. Other projects include Liberty Park, a residential community in Maricopa County; Red River, a master planned community in Pinal County; 3rd Ave. and Grant, a Phoenix Revitalization Corporation project and several small-scale diverse projects across the Valley.

"We're grateful to have the opportunity to serve clients in such a great city," states Doug Craig, Principal and Partner in the firm. "The opening of this new office reaffirms Norris Design's commitment to this important market – an area of key strategic focus for us."

If you are interested in attending the open house on November 1st to learn more about Norris Design, please contact Kathryn Lansink at 602.254.9600 or email her at klansink@norris-design.com.
